

NELSON'S ULTIMATUM TO McCUMBER EXPOSED

$48,000,000 RAIL WAGE CUT ORDERED BY BOARD

MAINTENANCE WORKERS' PAY CUT BY ORDER

Railroad Labor Board Issues Order, With Three Labor Members Dissenting

OTHER CASES PENDING

Action of Board Expected to Be Taken on Shopmen and Telegraphers Soon

STRIKE MAY RESULT

Detroit, Mich., May 29 (By the A. P.)—Belief that a strike vote would be ordered by the executive council of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees and railroad shop laborers was expressed today by E. F. Garbe, grand president of the organization, as the council went into session to consider the wage reduction ordered yesterday by the United States railroad labor board.

Chicago, May 29 (By the A. P.)—Maintenance of way employees of the nation's railroads faced a $48,000,000 wage reduction July 1 as a result of last night's order by the railroad labor board. The order affects 400,000 men.

This order, the $400,000,000 slash of last July, and pending orders affecting other classes if they carry the same ratio of reduction, will place railroad labor back where it was before the $600,000,000 increase of May 1920.

Pending decisions governing the wages of 600,000 railway shopmen, 200,000 clerks, telegraphers, station employees and other classes were expected to follow closely upon last night's order which cut the pay of maintenance of way workers from 1 to 5 cents an hour.

With their settlement over working rules still pending the Big Four Brotherhoods and the Switchmen are not now yet involved in any wage dispute before the board. These classes received a 12 percent reduction last July, however.

Unions Consider

Immediate consideration of last night's order by the executive council of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees was in prospect today.

Brotherhood officials characterized the cut as "indefensible," asserting the case presented to the board did not warrant the slash.

The three labor members of the board returned a dissenting opinion, the order being signed by the three members representing the public and the three railroad members.

Money saved by the wage reduction will be expended in much needed maintenance work, according to the reports of the roads to the board. Starting of this neglected work will offer employment to 200,000 additional men, it was said.

The Cuts Made

Wages of maintenance of way employees now ranging from 28 to 40 cents an hour will after July 1 range from 23 to 35 cents an hour. Common labor suffered the greater cut. This class numbers about 187,000 employees who favor a reduction of 5 cents an hour along with 97,000 men who work around round houses, shops and yards. Section, track and maintenance foremen will take a 3 cent reduction while mechanics not under the shop craft agreement were cut 4 cents and mechanics' helpers 1 cent.

GOMPERS ATTACKS AWARD

Washington, May 29.—Attacking in caustic terms the decision of the railroad labor board with respect to wages of maintenance of way employees Samuel Gompers, president of the A. F. of L., declared today it was "a most unjust and inequitable proceeding."

Mr. Gompers in a formal statement said, "the decision penalizes the workers and helps the railroads" and "is another illustration of the unfitness of the railroad labor board."

BOTTOMLEY IS FOUND GUILTY

London, May 29 (By the A. P.)—Horatio Bottomley, former publisher of John Bull, was found guilty today by a jury on the charge of misappropriation of funds belonging to the Victory Bond Club. He was sentenced to 7 years penal servitude.

Immediately after sentence was passed Bottomley served notice that he intended to appeal the case.

Mystery in Ward Case Deepens

What was the basis for the blackmail which Walter S. Ward, millionaire of New Rochelle, N. Y., says was attempted against him? Police authorities and Ward refuse to say. Mrs. Ward (above) staunchly supports her husband who confessed to slaying Clarence Peters, alleged blackmailer.

BIG SAVING TO STATE RESULTS IN RATE CUTS

Estimated That Shippers' Bills
In North Dakota Will Be Cut
$800,000 to $1,000,000

GRAINS ARE EXCEPTED

Saving to North Dakota shippers on freight rates as a result of the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission will be greater than was anticipated, according to V. E. Smart, traffic expert of the railroad commission, following receipt and study of the official, detailed order of the commission. Mr. Smart estimates the reduction in freight rates will amount annually to between $800,000 and $1,000,000 on North Dakota business, depending upon the volume.

The report of railroads filed with the commission indicates that there must be a marked increase in the traffic in North Dakota during the next year, if the railroads are to make a reasonable return upon their investment.

Operating reports submitted to the railroad commission for a period of three months show an operating ratio for the C. M. and St. P. road of 90.6, for the Great Northern, 89.4, Soo lines of 97.1, and the Northern Pacific, 90.1, meaning that out of every dollar in revenues the St. Paul road pays 90.1-2 cents in operating expenses and the other roads the amounts listed. The remainder is for taxes, interest on bonds and dividends. Before the war the operating ratios ranged from 85 to 80. The decrease in rates on the present volume of business would virtually wipe out the margin revenues over operating expenses, according to these figures. The Interstate Commerce Commission's decision was based on the belief that lower rates and general business betterment would bring greater revenues.

There is no decrease in rates upon wheat, hay and other grains on which reductions had previously been made, and which constitute 60 percent of the North Dakota railroad business. There are, however, reductions of importance on railroad business, which will effect great savings to shippers. These reductions are figured by Mr. Smart as follows:

Lignite coal, 16 percent; flaxseed, 16 percent; on all intrastate traffic, 14 1-2 percent; on class and commodity rates in interstate traffic, 14 1-2 percent; on livestock where the rate exceeds 50 cents per hundredweight, 7 percent; sand, gravel and scoria, 16 percent.

The livestock rate is less because reductions had previously been made, according to Mr. Smart. There is no reduction on potatoes because there had been a 10 percent reduction, the order providing that if there had been a 10 percent reduction on any commodity since Aug. 26, 1920, the new order would not apply.

The reduction made by the Interstate Commerce Commission, according to Mr. Smart, who worked with representatives of other commissions in the recent rate hearings, is drastic and more than many of those asking reductions expected.

MINSTREL SHOW PARADE TO HAVE NEW FEATURES

A grand surprise is in store in the Elks Minstrel parade, on June 2 and 3.

Obert A. Olson, chairman of the parade committee, today declared that the parade, like the minstrel show, would contain new features and would be a smashing success.

The parade will move through the downtown streets at 12:30 p. m. Friday and Saturday. The Elks band will lead it. The minstrel show players will be in it, and a lot of features are to be introduced.

NORTON QUILTS SENATOR RACE TO CLEAR WAY

Says He Is Convinced His Candidacy Would Injure the Nestos State Ticket

Former Congressman P. D. Norton, of Mandan, today announced his withdrawal from the race for the Republican nomination for United States Senator.

In so doing Mr. Norton issued a statement in which he took a rap at Ormsby McLaffey, of Jamestown, who entered the race, by saying that he withdrew because of the danger caused the state ticket by intervention in the Frazier-McCumber fight.

Mr. Norton's statement follows: "It is only after the most careful consideration of the very much muddled political condition that exists in our state that I have concluded not to file my petitions for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate as many of my loyal friends throughout the state wish me to do. In a number of political consultations I have had the past few days it has been made very plain that my candidacy for the Senate at this time would make increasingly difficult the nomination of Governor Nestos and the other candidates for state and Congressional offices endorsed by the Republican convention held at Jamestown. I still am of the opinion that a serious violation of the principles of honesty and straightforwardness towards the people was made in not endorsing a Republican candidate for the United States Senate at the Jamestown convention. Those who were most responsible for that evasion are now not proud of it."

Wants to Clear Situation
"However, now more than any other thing I want to see our state returned this year to a sane, sound and honest condition politically and economically. This, I believe will be best accomplished by the nomination and election of the state and congressional candidates endorsed by the Republican convention held at Jamestown."

"Already too much personal selfishness and flouting disregard of the people's wishes predominate the actions of many of those who have been given the place of leadership in public life in our state. I do not propose by any act of mine in this campaign to add to this evil. There has never been (Continued on Page 2)

PRIMARY RACE ENTRANTS READY FOR THE START

With Time for Filing Petitions
Ending Today Practically
All Candidate Are In

ANTI-FUSIONISTS FILE

Two Democratic Tickets in Field;
Three Candidates for Important G. O. P. Places

With the time for filing petitions for entrance into the Republican and Democratic primaries ending today, the stage appeared set at noon for the start of the political derby without additional entries of importance.

Former Congressman P. D. Norton, of Mandan, cleared the atmosphere somewhat as respects the Republican senatorial primary by announcing his withdrawal from the race. Petitions had been on file for Senator McCumber and Lynn J. Frazier. Ormsby McLaffey filed his petitions, and today Herman Mitdoo, of Donnybrook, frequently a candidate, filed an affidavit of intention to be a candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination. Petitions did not accompany the affidavit.

The "anti-fusion" Democratic ticket was filed by E. E. Smith, of Fargo. On this ticket are F. O. Halstrom for the nomination for United States Senator, Dr. Platon for Governor, Herbert Hard for Secretary of State, S. L. Nuchols for Attorney-General and Theo. Mostad for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor. The O'Connor-Simon fusion ticket was filed a few days ago.

Kooker Files Petitions
Filing of petitions today for Joseph Kooker, well known banker of Dawson, completed the filing of the "clean-up" ticket of H. L. Stegner in the Republican state primary. Mr. Stegner is the candidate for Governor, Siver Serungard for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor and Mr. Kooker for secretary of state.

There are three candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor—B. A. Nestos, Bert F. Baker and H. L. Stegner; three for Attorney-General, P. A. Garburg, Geo. Shafer and L. W. Wether; three for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, Siver Serungard, W. J. Church and Joseph A. Kitchen; three for secretary of state Joseph Kooker, Thomas Hall, and H. H. Aaker.

Ulstrup Would File
J. H. Ulstrup, of Towner, today filed an affidavit of intention to become a candidate for supreme court judge. Petitions did not accompany his affidavit. He is a Nonpartisan and states attorney at Towner.

Geo. McClelland, of Beach, filed positions placing him in the race for the Republican nomination for Congressman in the Third district.

If petitions are mailed today and received tomorrow the candidate may enter the race.

IDLE AUTO IS NOT TAX FREE, IS BUREAU RULING

Payment of the motor vehicle registration fee cannot be avoided by not operating the automobile, according to E. P. Crain, director of the Motor Vehicle registration. The law makes the registration fee a tax on all motor vehicles, he says, which must be made whether or not the vehicle is operated. One resident of the northwestern part of the state who sought to register a second-hand car was required to pay the registration fee for three years, he said.

Receipts of the bureau of May 18, this year, amounted to $478,710.25, which is somewhat less than the figure on that date last year, which was $511,784.60. The number of cars registered on May 27 was 76,613, of which 43,660 were of a well known popular make.

McCUMBER PLAN ON BONUS WINS IN COMMITTEE

Although Record Vote Is Not Taken His Plan Appears Favorable Over Smoot Plan

Washington, May 29.—The McCumber soldier bonus apparently commanded a majority in the senate finance committee today but a formal vote was deferred until Wednesday to give senators additional time to consider some additional amendments that were suggested.

Chairman McCumber expressed confidence after the session that his plan which follows closely the house bill except that the land settlement feature has been eliminated would be approved and in this Democratic members of the committee agreed.

Both the McCumber proposals and the Smoot propositions to give veterans paid up insurance policies in lieu of all other forms of compensation were discussed at some length in the committee meeting which was the first for discussion of the bonus to which Democratic members were admitted.

Senator McCumber presented his proposal in detail and senator Smoot explained his plan. The committee said there was no discussion of a cash bonus, saying there was not money with which to pay cash.

MAKE SEARCH FOR WOMAN IN CASE OF WARD

Waiter Says He Was Offered
$500 to Commit Murder
In Ward Home

White Plains, N. Y., May 29.—Search was made today for a woman said to have offered $500 to a youth in New York restaurant to commit murder in the New Rochelle home of Walter J. Ward, who admits he killed Clarence Peters because of blackmail but keeps the nature of the blackmail a secret. The check-up by the police bears out the story told by a waiter that a young woman in black had taken him to New Rochelle and promised him $500 if he would enter the house and shoot the person she pointed out to him. He went with his story to the police who watched the woman but she failed to appear.

The county authorities said they were investigating an anonymous telephone message to the effect that Ward with Peters and a sailor from the battleship Utah had attended a party "for men" in a Boston hotel three months ago.

I. V. A. BOSS PUTS IN LETTER WHAT SENIOR SENATOR MUST DO TO BE SAVED POLITICALLY

Judge Andrew Miller Must Be Sent to Some Other State — Democrats Who Have Aided I. V. A. Machine Must Get Portion of Federal Jobs. Hildreth Must Be Discharged at Once and Gunder Olson Must Place Resignation as National Committeeman in Spalding's Hands.

McCUMBER ASKED TO SIGN PUBLIC CONFESSION

Must Tell People He Is Sorry He Did Not Support Recall and Repudiate His Statement Denouncing the Primary Law Written by Nelson and Defeated in Recent Recall. Last But Not Least McCumber's Friends Must Come Through With Big Campaign Fund to be Handled by Nelson and His Associates.

What Theodore Nelson, secretary of the Independent Voters' Association demanded that Senator McCumber do in order to secure the support of that organization has come to light in a letter written by Mr. Nelson to A. B. Jackson and N. J. Kelly of Devils Lake, the most interesting campaign document probably in the annals of the state.

Here are a few of the things McCumber was told when he was in the state recently that he must do to be saved politically:

Issue a statement to the effect that he opposed I. V. A. election law in recall to abolish all parties in state owing to a lack of information as to its merits.

That directly or indirectly he has not any political understanding with the leaders of the Nonpartisan League and that he missed a splendid opportunity by failing to support the recall.

That he will unqualifiedly support the Farm Bloc in congress.

File with the Real Republican State Central Committee headed by Burleigh Spalding his promise to use his influence to have a vacancy created in the office of national committeeman, now held by Gunder Olson.

To procure instant removal of District Attorney Hildreth and his assistants.

Deliver over to Real Republican Committee all federal patronage naming without question the persons recommended by them.

Support worthy Democrats, who aided I. V. A. in their political battles, for federal or state jobs.

Support for national committeeman whoever the Spalding committee recommends.

To keep hands off from interfering with Committee of 45 in its plan for a division of state officers between the Republican and Democratic organizations of the state.

An exchange of JURISDICTION BETWEEN JUDGE MILLER OF THIS DISTRICT AND SOME OTHER JUDGE OF SOME OTHER DISTRICT.

ALL PERSONAL AND POLITICAL FRIENDS OF SENATOR McCUMBER MUST CONTRIBUTE LIBERALLY TO THE primary and general election campaign.

The remarkable campaign document from the pen of Theodore Nelson follows in full:

JOURGAN OLSON IS INDICTED

Booneville, Ill., May 29.—Jourgan Olson, banker of Minot, N. D., was indicted by a grand jury here charged with conspiracy to secrete and appropriate $89,000 of the funds of the Farmers Bank of Newburgh, Indiana, which failed last year, it became known today. The return of the indictment against the North Dakotan became known today when Gov. McCray of Indiana issued a requisition for his arrest.

NELSON'S ULTIMATUM.

Fargo, April 14, 1922.
Messrs. A. B. Jackson and N. J. Kelly,
Devils Lake, North Dakota

Dear Sirs:
In reply to your question as to what in my judgment needs to be done in order to make it possible to make an effort to get the Independent voters of the state to acquiesce in the plea to not disturb the Finance Committee of the United States senate, which it is claimed would happen if Senator McCumber should not be re-elected, I respectfully submit the following enumerations of some of the most important things that need to be done:

PUBLIC CONFESSION DEMANDED.

Senator McCumber will need to issue a public statement over his signature to the effect that owing to lack of time to keep posted or for other reasons has misunderstood the political situation in North Dakota; that when he opposed the revision of our election laws, as proposed by the Independent voters at the last general election, he misunderstood the purpose of that proposal; that he has not directly or indirectly any kind of political understanding or agreement with the leaders of the Nonpartisan League; that he does not in any way approve of the acts of the Nonpartisan League; he missed a splendid opportunity to render his state valuable service by not giving his support to the independent candidates in the recall election last year. The senator should further state unqualifiedly that he will support the Farm Bloc on all major propositions.

FIRE GUNDER OLSON.

The senator would do well to file with the real Republican State Central Committee, headed by B. F. Spalding, a statement to the effect that he will use his influence in every way possible to have a vacancy created in the office of National Committeeman for North Dakota, and to bring about forthwith the removal of the present federal district attorney and all his deputies and assistants. And the senator (Continued on Page 2)

BASIL M. MANLY GIVES ADDRESS ON "INCOMES"

Concentration of Owership and Control of Wealth Is Inevitably Increasing

NEED EFFECTIVE ACTION

Eanston, Ill., May 27.—People are "dupes of a definition, victims of a bit of sharp practice in account" in the interpretation of income, Basil M. Manly of Washington, D. C., director of research and investigation for the United States Commission on Industrial Relations, told the Conference on Christianity and the Economic Order here today. "To put individual income" accounting on the same basis as corporate accounting, only surplus over adequate living wage should be counted as income," he asserted. "Mr. Manly was joint chairman of the War Labor Board in 1918-19 and an expert of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics from 1908 to 1912.

"Income as defined for corporations, partnerships and individuals engaged in business," Mr. Manly asserted, "means net profits, after liberal deductions for expenses of operation, maintenance, replacement, obsolescence, etc. Income as defined for wage and salary earners means gross earnings with no deductions for maintenance or replacement of the human machine.

"Of the net product of industry, according to the report of the National Bureau of Economic Research, after deducting the most of raw materials seventy percent goes to wage and salary earners, thirty percent to receivers of rent interest profits. Of the total national income the richest one percent receives fourteen percent; the richest five percent receives twenty-six percent; the richest ten percent receives thirty-five percent. The poorest seventy-two percent receives forty-four percent, the poorest ten percent receives two and a half percent, and poorest five percent receives nine-tenths percent.

In 1918, 521 persons reported incomes over $500,000, totalling $536,432,618—equal to earnings of 500,000 people at the average ($1,078) reported for the same year for all employees normally engaged in industry, including salaried employees. The concentration of ownership and of the control of wealth is inevitably increasing, unless restrained by effective action."

INDIAN CHIEFS WILL MAKE A NEW TRIBE OF SCRIBES

Glacier Park Station, Mont., May 27.—In preparation for entertainment of members of the National Editorial association on their arrival in Glacier National park during their Montana tour in July, the Blackfeet Indian council already has appointed its reception committee to greet the editors in genuine "aborigine fashion." The welcoming Red Men will consist of the tribal chiefs of the Glacier National park reservation, Two Guns White, Calf, Eagle, Wolf, Robe, Many Tail Feathers, Heavy Breast, Turtle, Lazy Boy, Middle Rider, Big Springs, and Curley Bear. This array of full-bloods attired in beaded buckskin and feathered regalia will present a dazling sight to the "quill shovers" from among whose tribe each of the Indian chiefs will select subjects for initiation into their own tribe. The adoption ceremony attending the taking of white men into the Blackfeet tribe is a picturesque proceeding.

Ceremony of Adoption.
The pale face subjects, stripped to the waist, are arranged, kneeling, within a circle of Indians. Amid the tumult of beating tom-toms and solemn chanting of the adoption song each chief paints his family hieroglyphics upon the bare back of the white man he is to sponsor with an Indian name.

Wallace O'Dell, president of the New York Editorial association, is known to be under consideration as one of the prospective subjects for adoption, and it is understood the Indians have been in communication with the executive officers of the N. E. A., seeking the names of other state editorial chiefs. The Indians are bent on honoring real chiefs like themselves and they are making their initiation arrangements accordingly.

For the comfort of these men it may be said the ceremony is not nearly so trying as being tarred-and-feathered by the Ku Klux Klan, since the vegetable dyes used by the Indians readily wash off with ordinary soap and water. Mr. Medicine Waddle, who has charge of the "color caldron" will be a very busy woman during all the month of May directing the flying squadron of squaws that will roasting roots and herbs which will be steeped to produce all the colors of the rainbow that are to decorate the backs of the "class of editorial chiefs" that is to be honored on this gala occasion.

The Blackfeet Indian Council has written to Louis W. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern Railway, one of the charter members of its tribe of "Adopted Pale Face Brothers" asking him to issue formal invitations to all white men and women in the United States who have been taken into the Blackfeet Tribe, urging as many as can be present in July when the "bb" initiation ceremony for the editors" takes place. The Indians keep a record of all their adoptions, each accepted pale face member signing his own name and his Indian name with the historical mammoth Golden Eagle quill that has been handed down through generations by the chiefs of the Black-

MISQUOTED, IS EXPLANATION OF MR. DAUGHERTY

Attorney-General Says He Did
Not Tell Sen. Watson of
No Connection in Case

Washington, May 27.—Attorney General Daugherty, in a letter to Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, read in the senate at the latter's request denies that he told the Indiana senator he had no connection with the procuring of a pardon on Charles W. Morse, as stated by Senator Watson in the senate on May 2, when Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, opened his attack on the attorney general.

Mr. Daugherty said he regretted if Senator Watson misunderstood him. He wrote that he remembered the general discussion of the Morse case with the senator and added: "I certainly did not make the statement to you that I had no connection with the Morse case."

The attorney general stated that he had no "disposition to deny" his connection with the case and added that he received about $4,000 from Thomas B. Felder in connection with the pardon, but that this sum was sufficient to pay only about half the expenses.

Don't Doubt Watson
Senator Caraway told the senate that there would be no question of misunderstanding; that Senator Watson either repeated what was told him, or he had misrepresented the attorney general. Asserting that he did not believe there had been any misrepresentation by the Indiana senator, Mr. Caraway said another Republican senator had told him that the attorney general had made the same denial to him.

"Is it true, or is it not true," said Senator Caraway, "the attorney general said nothing when the contract was produced in which it was shown that he did represent Morse. I know that unless the senator from Indiana was intentionally misrepresenting the attorney general; and of course I cannot think he would do that, the attorney general told what the senator from Indiana stated. This is a question between the attorney general and his friends. If they are willing to bear the imputation that they misrepresented him in order to pull him out of a hole it is up to them."

The five stones used by David to slay the Philistine warrior as told in the First Book of Samuel were used as foundation stones on which the Rev. T. Dewhurst of St. Georges Episcopal church based his baccalaureate sermon to the members of the high school graduating class at the city Auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Rev. C. F. Strutz of the Evangelical church made the invocation and Rev. L. R. Johnson of the Baptist church read the scripture lesson. Miss Emma Taubert, supervisor of music in the public schools, and the Girls' Glee club furnished music for the program.

In the preparation of his address Rev. Dewhurst declared that he had decided that the lesson which he wished to convey to a class composed of very young men and women must have two essentials: It must be brief and it must be interesting. Since nothing is more interesting to the young than a fight as indicated by their selection of "Conquering and Still to Conquer" as the class motto, the story of David and Goliath was selected.

Optimism, self-reliance, reliance, courage, and common sense were made symbolic of the five stones.

"Although times may appear dark and gloomy, we have only to pierce the clouds to see a great and beautiful world surrounding us," asserted Rev. Dewhurst in commenting on the pessimism on the present day.

Must Rely on Self

"Your education is never completed until you have learned something of the principle of self-reliance, which is confidence. If you do not have confidence in yourself, no one else will. This is a principle that is deeply implanted in the human being," declared Reverend Dewhurst. "You cannot have reliance unless you have faith in God."

He warned the young people who expected to enter higher institutions of learning against the scepticism with which they would meet. He affirmed that the Bible is a book that could not be torn to pieces, and declared that if the scientists could find as good an explanation for the origin of life as contained in the Bible, he was ready to take off his hat to them.

COL. NEFF, U. S. A. TO SPEAK HERE

FORKS BANK MAY REOPEN

Grand Forks, N. D., May 29.—The People's State bank of Grand Forks, which was closed Feb. 17, 1921, by the state bank examiner, may be reopened within the next few months, according to John Vally, receiver.

J. I. O'Donnell of Grand Forks, is now going over the bank's books and papers to determine what if anything can be done in the way of opening it for business.

Others besides Mr. O'Donnell who are interested in putting the bank on its feet are Alex Curry, president of the First National bank of Sharon; Ole N. Grishelm, who has a chain of banks throughout the state, and Robert Curry of Sharon.

Among the proposed provisions for the bank's reopening is the 100 per cent assessment of all stock and the payment of deposits in instalments.

8 NEW MEMBERS ARE ADDED TO DAIRY CIRCUIT

Louis Garske and W. F. Reynolds Successful in Increasing Number in Burleigh Co.

CIRCUIT IS NOW STRONG Combined with Kidder County The Circuit Ranks Well With Others in State

Louis Garske, president of the Bismarck Holstein Breeding-Testing Association and W. F. Reynolds, of the state dairy department, have added eight new members to the Bismarck circuit within the last week, it was announced today. The addition of new members will reduce the cost to all members and make a much stronger circuit, it is stated.

It is planned to hold a meeting in Bismarck June 2 of all members to go over the entire situation. Mr. Garske and Mr. Reynolds reported they found much enthusiasm for the circuit, and think that more might be interested in it but there are now as many members in the circuit (combined with Kidder county) as one superintendent can handle. The circuit now ranks well in comparison with others in the state.

It is stated that those in charge feel that it is desirable to go ahead with a strong organization now rather than try two separate organizations, not so strong, and in another year it is anticipated that there will be a separate Kidder county and a separate Burleigh county circuit.

A meeting was held at McKenzie Friday night with all new members present. R. F. Flint, state dairy commissioner, was present and spoke of the importance of keeping a record of each cow's performance.

An example of the profitability of testing cows was given by Charles Roberts, of Dawson. He found after testing his cows that the cow which was thin and which he was going to sell as the poorest one of the herd was really producing the highest butter fat test and was the most valuable cow of the herd. Mr. Roberts plans to purchase a registered Holstein sire.

Charles Phleghar, of Carson, after having the superintendent test the skim milk from his separator found he was losing $4.90 per month because the separator was not adjusted properly, about enough to pay his entire circuit dues. The separator was adjusted and the waste ceased.

N. Wengardner, of Pettibone, has shipped in eight high-grade Holstein heifer calves from Wisconsin and two registered Holstein heifers from New York.

New members of the Bismarck circuit include: Presley W. Gosney and T. Ellison, of Sterling; C. E. Crum, J. F. Wildfang, C. W. Thompson, L. M. Wildfang, and R. C. Wildfang, McKenzie and John Obowa, Bismarck.

WALLACE TAKES POSITION WITH WESTERN UNION

Former State Tax Commissioner Withdraws From Race For Supreme Court

George E. Wallace of Bismarck, former state tax commissioner, who withdrew from the race for supreme court judge, for which position he had been endorsed by the Nonpartisan league convention, today made the following statement:

"I desire at this time to thank my friends for their confidence in me and for the honor shown me in endorsing me for a position on the supreme court. I must withdraw and in doing so will give my reasons.

"When the news reached New York that I was no longer in the employ of our state as tax commissioner, I received a letter from the legal department of the Western Union Telegraph company in which it was expressed a desire that I should accept employment in the tax department and inquiring what salary I wanted. I went to New York and closed up a contract with the Western Union. My work will take me there where I will have an office on the twentieth floor of the Western Union building.

"This is a life position. My work will take me into every state in the union, eastern Canada, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, British Isles, France, and other parts of Europe. In this way I will still be associated with my North Dakota friends.

"Then, too, the salary I receive at the beginning is far in excess of that paid by the state to a justice of the supreme court.

"Under the circumstance I am sure my friends will accept my withdrawal from the race. I sincerely thank you one and all for your kindly interest and friendship. Although distance will separate us we will still be friends. My address after July 1 will be 193 Broadway, New York City.

"(Signed) GEO. E. WALLACE."

Memorial Sunday

Memorial Sunday was observed in Bismarck in most churches, special reference being made to the Sunday by the pastors. Members of the American Legion and organizations attended in a body the services held at the First Presbyterian church, where Governor R. A. Nestos delivered a tribute to the memory of the soldier dead of the nation.

A bow and a set of arrows, more than 4000 years old, which came from a tomb in Egypt, are among the antiquities owned by the Royal Tuxophillite (Archery) Society, London.

CANAL EFFORTS ARE APPROVED

Indorsement of the action of President Harding in seeking to open negotiations with Canada for the construction of the proposed St. Lawrence-Great Lakes tidewater project is contained in a communication sent by Governor Nestos to the President. In the communication he joins with other Governors of the Northwest and the executive committee of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association, representing 18 states, in approving the firm course of President Harding against stubborn opposition.

In addition to approving the resolution prepared by the executive committee of the association, Governor Nestos emphasized the desire and importance of the project to North Dakota development.

Loyal to Friends

"Representations that have been made to me convince me that the issues in the present campaign will be clearer if my candidacy is not presented at the coming primaries. As I most earnestly wish to see the candidates for state and congressional offices indorsed at the Jamestown convention nominated at the primaries and elected I am whole heartedly willing to how make such personal sacrifice as it seems necessary to make to assist most to this end.

"I want to assure those splendid men and women throughout the state who have been so loyal and generous in their support of my candidacy and who have circulated and signed my nomination petitions that I deeply appreciate their friendship and confidence in me and that in withdrawing my candidacy at this time I am doing what I believe will best improve a very bad political condition in our state."

We Remember

Strong is the Nation that pauses in its material tasks to turn its thoughts to the lofty and the spiritual.

Our heroes, of the Wars died for an ideal; and that ideal must burn in all our minds, find entrance to all our hearts.

Our Tribute of recollection spreads to days across the seas; on the fields of France garlands are strewn upon the graves of our heroic dead.

In our own land, on tombs sacred to the names of liberty and union, the blossoms of a grateful people are spread in proof that we remember.

It is for us to hold true—particularly so in these times—to the same spirit which animated the boys of '76, of '61, of '98 and '17.

"STINNES IS 'NORTHCLIFFE OF GERMANY'"

BY MILTON BRONNER
European Manager for NEA Service
Berlin May 20.—In London clubs they love to tell the story of the man who boasted he read lots of newspapers so he could have all kinds and shades of opinion before making up his mind on public questions. Asked what papers he read he replied:
"On weekdays I read the solid Times and the sprightly Daily Mail and the hustling Evening News in the afternoon. On Sundays I read the breezy Dispatch."
He was amazed when his friends greeted his statement with shouts of laughter. One of them enlightened him by explaining that all those papers belonged to Lord Northcliffe and expressed his policies.
There are many who say that Hugo Stinnes, Germany's business king is the German Northcliffe only more so. They will tell you the time is rapidly approaching when it will be difficult to know whether one is reading an independent opinion or a Stinnes opinion.

oControls Newspapers
People ordinarily well informed variously estimate Stinnes owns 12 papers, 40 papers, even 120 papers in Germany and still others in Austria. They bewail the growing loss of free newspaper comment in Germany.
Labor leaders tell me Germany since 1918, has always in this regard been worse off than almost any big nation in the world.
Bismarck had his press which told the public what he wanted it to believe and fought the causes and statesmen Bismarck hated or feared. With the tremendous expansion of Germany as a business nation, labor leaders make the flat assertion that coal, iron and steel interests openly or secretly secured control of many of the big influential newspapers of Germany. Their object was to support political parties and leaders who would give them the kind of laws and tariffs best suited to their interests.

People who know Stinnes well, tell me the ability to mold public opinion through ownership of newspapers was probably only a secondary thought with him. For Stinnes, business is always business. He is a practical man. He came into the publishing game first of all because he owns coal mines. The bridge from coal mines to newspapers is made of wood.
In his coal mines Stinnes needed great quantities of wood for shoring up seams and for many other kinds of construction in the pits. To assure himself of a steady, ample supply of cheap wood, he bought great forest tracts in East Prussia and Finland. Then his restless brain got busy again. He had the timber and he had the coal. Why not ship the coal to where the timber stood and manufacture valuable wood products—cellulose paper pulp and paper.
So one fine day Germany learned that loads of Stinnes coal were going across Germany to East Prussia, where, in Stinnes mills, trees were converted into Stinnes paper and pulp. Later he bought a big concern in Koenigsberg and another in North Germany. In his own neighborhood of Westphalia there was a mill which manufactured fine note paper, so he bought that, too.

Buys Three Berlin Papers
Then it struck Stinnes it would be a grand idea to manufacture Stinnes paper into Stinnes newspapers. So in quick succession he bought three Berlin journals. His first investment was the "Industrie und Handelszeitung," which, as its name indicates, is a business paper. It was the best in Germany and so an important acquisition for a business king. His next purchase was the smaller "Der Tagewarte."
His third acquisition was the most significant of all. He bought the "Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung," the paper which in the old days of the monarchy was the semi-official organ of the government. What it said represented what the rulers wanted known. Its readers are still very largely the once-upon-a-time official classes who are true to the royalist cause and hope for an ultimate restoration of the Hohenzollerns.

Supports People's Party
Stinnes belongs to the German People's party. In fact, he is its chief financial backer. He fills its campaign chest when an election is fought. And the right wing of the party is largely royalist. Germans who belong to the democratic parties which believe in republican institutions tell you Stinnes himself at heart is a monarchist. However, that may be, he is too shrewd a businessman to come openly out for the king business so long as the republican wave lasts in Germany and so long as open espousal of royalty would throw him into conflict with his workmen.

The fact is the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung certainly watches its step. It confines itself largely to giving the news. If the news is colored to suit the interests of Stinnes, it is very cleverly done. In a time when German papers are almost as small as those of France because of the high cost of things this great Stinnes sheet gives abundant proof of the full money coffers in back of it. It is the largest paper in Berlin and it spends much money on special telegraphic service in a period when the rate of foreign exchange against Germany makes cables from outside really worth their actual weight in gold.
I have been told that Stinnes owns at least one important paper in almost every considerable city of Germany and that only recently he closed a deal for two in Leipzig. Whenever such assertions appear in the German press, they are immediately denied by the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung. This paper persists in saying that Stinnes owns only the three I have mentioned. Stinnes' secretary earnestly told me the same thing. To which other Germans reply that the ownership of the many other papers may not be in Stinnes name. But they say he controls them just the same. Sometimes they say a bank or a coal mining company or a big mill controls the paper. And Stinnes controls the bank or the mill or the mine.

In Austrian Journalism
He has also become an important factor in Austrian journalism, when only recently it was reported he had purchased the Elbe paper mills This

CURRENT EVENTS!
Another Discussion of World Happenings in Simple Language
For School Children and Busy Adults

- 1. Germany and Reparations
- 2. New World Conference
- 3. Improving Business

Germany must make another payment on the reparations bill May 31. The reparations, as you have read before, are the money Germany is obliged to pay to the allies to make up for the farm land, factories and homes Germany destroyed in the war.
In the last few weeks Germany has paid its reparations bills promptly, but it seems improbable that Germany will be able to raise the amount it will be obliged to pay the last day of this month.
If Germany does not meet its payment, some Frenchmen believe France should march soldiers in the Ruhr district and Bavaria, parts of Germany, and hold this land until Germany does pay up.
But probably France will not do this. For sober and well-balanced Frenchmen believe Germany will not refuse to pay if it is able to pay and that little could be gained by sending French soldiers into Germany territory.
Meanwhile a commission of bankers is meeting at Paris to consider granting an international loan to Germany, thus enabling Germany to meet its payments. Attending this meeting are bankers and financiers from most of the important European countries as well as J. P. Morgan, one of America's greatest bankers.
Finance Minister Hermes, who is in charge of Germany's money affairs, also is at Paris trying to arrange for the peaceful settlement of the reparations question.

The world conference at Genoa Italy, to settle the money troubles of Europe, failed utterly in accomplishing its purpose. The only result of concern not only had three paper mills but four Vienna newspapers—the Extrablatt, the Mittags Zeitung, the Wiener Allgemeine Zeitung and the Sonn und Montag Zeitung. The Extrablatt is an illustrated paper with a large circulation and the Allgemeine Zeitung is a leading Bourgeois organ. So in Austria as in Germany, Stinnes now controls a leading business newspaper.

When a man owns a string of newspapers, it is natural that he should think about the sources of their news. In other words, he becomes interested in the press associations that supply the news by telegraph. The first in which Stinnes invested money was the well known Dammert bureau, which had three separate services: One for papers supporting the German Peoples party; one for the papers which support the Democratic party; and lastly a service for papers free from political leanings. This bureau has now been merged with the Telegraph Union, in which Stinnes is also said to have invested money.

King of Ink and Paper
Having the wood and the coal and the paper and the newspapers, Stinnes has gone almost as far as it is possible in the newspaper business. But there are other outlets for print paper. There is, for instance, the book and pamphlet trade and also the general printing of leaflets, circulars, catalogues, bill heads, etc. So Stinnes formed a new concern under his own name and also brought two famous and old established companies—the North German Book and Printing Co. and the powerful Buxenstein Press, which itself controls a number of subordinate concerns. The emporium attached to Stinnes is in such a strategic position to influence public opinion upon corporate laws taxation, tariff and other matters that interest big business. If he wants to he can concentrate a weight of printed matter—newspapers, pamphlets, books, magazines—such as never before has been at the disposal of one man in Germany. It's no wonder that in newspaper circles they now call him the King of Ink and Paper

Then followed the Jamestown convention in which Senator McCumber had enough votes to secure an endorsement if his friends had so desired. It was believed better not to force such an endorsement. The wing of McCumber's friends who are trying unsuccessfully to placate the Nestos administration thought it would be better politics not to endorse a candidate and the convention confined its actions solely to an endorsement of the various candidates and the adoption of a program committing the state to a policy of continued state ownership.

After the convention terrific pressure was brought to bear to have Justice Christianson enter the race. It is understood that Theodore Nelson made a trip to Bismarck with that in view and other I. V. A. henchmen added pressure to his importunings. After Gronna's death efforts were redoubled. Judge Christianson refused to be utilized to even up political grudges of the I. V. A. henchmen who have been bitter against McCumber ever since he denounced Theodore Nelson's pet primary law and his other political vagaries which were snowed under at the recent recall election.

NOT TO PRAISE McCUMBER.
In addition to the foregoing, I beg to suggest that in my judgment it would be poor political tactics on the part of anybody to try to bring about the senator's re-election by lauding him personally. The voters of North Dakota are so concerned about the economic welfare of the state and its people that individuals count for little except as instruments by means of which our credit may be rehabilitated and the good name of the state restored throughout the nation. The argument therefore, that will appeal to the voters as a reason for re-electing Senator McCumber, if anything will, is the fact that by returning him to the senate and the chairmanship of the Finance Committee of that body, the voters of North Dakota will greatly strengthen the credit of the state as compared to what will happen to it if our recalled governor, Lyle J. Frazier, should, because of disagreement among the voters of the state, happen to be elected United States senator.

HIS VIEWS ONLY.
I further beg to respectfully suggest that the foregoing paragraphs represent only my personal views on the propositions, which you have broached and that it will be wise and perhaps entirely necessary that a preliminary step in any effort that may be made that a number of representative citizens should be called into a conference and that Senator McCumber should appear before such conference.

I also beg to state that this statement is not a statement of conditions—upon which the Independent voters of the state will join in or approve of your proposition. I should want to lay the whole matter before the state executive committee of the Independent Voters association, before in any way attempting to make an official statement on this all important matter.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) THEO. G. NELSON

HECKLED McCUMBER.
When Senator McCumber made a trip to the state previous to the Jamestown convention he met with many voters of the state. The I. V. A. secured a conference and these matters were gone over and it is reported that Senator McCumber indignantly refused to accede to these demands, stating that he was making the race as a Republican and that he was not a Socialist and would not submit to such dictation as outlined in the ultimatum of Theodore Nelson.

Ladies Entertain P. E. O. Delegates To Convention

Departing from the usual practice of entertaining convention attendants in the homes, members of Mandan chapter today furnished their first surprise to the delegates to the P. E. O. state convention when a hundred or more ladies from the 11 chapters in the state were assigned rooms at the Lewis and Clark hotel while they are in the city, at the expense of the local organization.

The convention opened at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and this evening delegates will be entertained at a formal banquet following which a reception will be held in the Presbyterian church parlors.

Mr. Bertha Clark Hughes, president of the supreme chapter, arrived in the city this afternoon and will deliver her address to the convention tomorrow morning.

MUSIC STUDENTS DELIGHT PUBLIC

The music students of Mrs. Wheeler of Mandan gave an unusually fine recital at the high school auditorium Saturday evening. Parts in the program were taken by seven boys, ranging in age from five to twelve years. The four girls were members of the junior high school.

The musical selections which were chiefly taken from modern American composers were all played from memory. Each participant gave a brief account of the kind of piece which he was going to play and its history. The poise and stage presence exhibited by the students were remarkable. An adult class might feel proud to show the same proficiency before the public.

Grace Entertains Club Members

Civil Grace entertained 26 members of the high school club Saturday evening at the Grace home, 522 Fifth St. The room was profusely decorated with lilacs and peonies. Games and dancing were the amusements of the evening. Several members of the club contributed musical selections. Refreshments were served late in the evening. Proper Feeding From the Start Means Health

SUMMER DOESN'T WORRY ME

By Mrs. Max West
Late of the United States Children's Bureau.

The one serious danger to the average baby in summer arises from disturbances of the digestion. Someone has said, however, that many of the deaths every summer which are said to be caused by "gastric and intestinal diseases," should really have been attributed to "bad feeding."

In other words, a pitifully large number of these illnesses and many deaths could be prevented if the baby had been fed in the best way from the start. Since a disturbance of this sort may become serious in a few hours in very hot weather, there is greater need than ever for care at this time of year.

Breast-fed babies are far less likely to have an attack of this kind than the one who is fed otherwise, but even a breast-fed baby may become ill if the mother nurses him too often or at irregular hours, or in the night, and especially if she lets him eat solid foods too early.

Bottle-fed babies appear to me most liable to attacks of summer diarrhea, and on this account every mother of a baby who is artificially fed should have the soundest advice about the feeding of the baby in hot weather.

It is quite possible to take a bottle-fed baby through the hottest weather in perfect health, but to do this it is necessary for the mother to observe with unvarying attention, the rules which make this sort of feeding safe.

If the number of stools increase markedly, and the baby is having four or more a day, the amount or strength of the milk mixture should be at once reduced. If the baby is having frequent stools and they show undigested curds, or are loose, stringy or slimy, the mother should send at once for the doctor, or take the baby to the nearest infant-welfare station, or in some other way get good advice at once.

The food should be stopped, and the baby given nothing except a thin barley gruel, or broth, or nothing but cool water. One or two teaspoonfuls of castor oil may be given, to rid the body of the offending substance, while waiting for the doctor, if the baby seems very ill.

The sick child should be kept as quiet and as cool as possible. It will probably be best to boil all the milk for some time after the attack is over.

(Tomorrow: Concerning older babies)

PAYS TRIBUTE TO HERO DEAD

Memorial Sunday Observed At M. E. Church

Yesterday morning at the McCabe Methodist Episcopal church Dr. Halfyard, the pastor, preached a very helpful and inspiring patriotic sermon to an appreciative congregation on the theme "My Country." The speaker spoke of the great wars in which this nation has participated and pointed out that the causes of these wars were moral causes. Justice and righteousness were the determining factors in these great struggles.

Attention was called to the fact that the truest and best way in which we can honor our country is by being loyal citizens. We are true patriots only as we contribute our largest service to our country's well-being. Patriotism is a deep and abiding sentiment. It is a thing of the heart, it is service, it is self-giving. A patriot is one who is true to the laws of his land and who seeks her highest welfare.

The choir rendered "Comrades Rest," by C. D. Strickland, and Mrs. B. M. Dunn and Mrs. L. G. Ackerman sang "Cover Them Over," by J. A. Parks, with very fine effect.

The War Mothers of America, Fort Lincoln chapter and the Women's Relief Corps of the city were in attendance.

LANDMARK OF CITY PASSES

Old House Makes Way For New Business Block

An old landmark of the city gave way today before the growth of modern business life in Bismarck. An old log house, known as the Fortune house and said by some pioneers to be the last of the early 70 houses of Bismarck was torn down to make way for a business block to be erected at Broadway and Second streets by E. A. Hughes.

The family of Thomas Fortune, was born in the house. E. A. Williams remembers the house being on the lot in the rear of the Eltinge theater in 1872.

Mr. Hughes announced he would erect a three-story building on the lot.

WOMAN COULD NOT WORK

Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a tired, worn-out feeling and painful periods. I used to get up with a pain in my head and pains in my lower parts and back. Often I was not able to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it. I feel so well and strong and can do every bit of my work and not a pain in my back now. I recommend your medicine and you can use this letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. PHIL MASEY, 801 Winslow St., St. Paul, Minn.

Just another case where a woman found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many times these tired, worn-out feelings and pains about the body are from troubles only women have. The Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for just this condition. The good results are noted by the disagreeable symptoms passing away—one after another.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a Woman's Medicine for Women's Ailments. Always reliable.

WHY SO HOT, LITTLE MAN?
P. R. Trubshaw, editor of the Valley City Times-Record, declares that if Senator McCumber wants the support of the independents of the state, he will have to muzzle the Bismarck Tribune.
It is just as well to clear the political atmosphere now as later. Senator McCumber, his backers or his managers have no strings on the Bismarck Tribune. Neither has any other political henchman or boss. The League managers nor the I. V. A. machine men have no more to say about the editorial policies of The Bismarck Tribune than has Senator McCumber and his sponsors.
The Tribune has endorsed Senator McCumber, it is true, but it is not seeking to dictate the franchises of its readers. They know they are at liberty to vote for Frazier, McHarg or any of the opponents of McCumber if they see in these candidates the embodiment of their political convictions.
It was not so long ago that the I. V. A. manager Theodore Nelson told Senator McCumber's backers more directly than Mr. Trubshaw does what he would have to do to be saved politically. Some of the things he was told he would have to do were as follows:
Send Judge Andrew Miller out of the state and allow the I. V. A. organization to arrange a change of jurisdiction.
Have Gunder Olson resign as national committeeman and let T. Twichell and brother "Late" Twichell and others in the inner circles name Mr. Olson's successor, probably B. F. Spalding.
Nelson's letter published elsewhere explains in detail all the demands.
Then Senator McCumber down on his knees, wearing sackcloth and ashes, was to beseech forgiveness from Theodore Nelson and others for past sins of omission and commission.
If Senator McCumber had done all the things the I. V. A. managers insisted, in exchange for their "support," he would have left the state discredited and should have been beaten to a frazzle at the polls, June 28.
He refused to stultify himself and buy the lip service of the henchmen who may direct the destinies of the I. V. A., but fortunately these men cannot dictate to the great electorate of North Dakota which just now is sizing up candidates and taking their measure regardless of what the machine politicians of any faction tell them.
The Tribune is not the organ of Senator McCumber. It is republican in its policies and believes of all candidates running for the United States senate that McCumber most faithfully represents the principles of that party.
Whether Nestos or his administration supports McCumber or not is of no significance to The Tribune. This newspaper is not a political organ of any clique or group of bosses. Never has it asked favors of either league or I. V. A. regime and it cares not one jot or tittle whether Nestos and his backers support McCumber or not—that is for the politicians to worry about.
But one thing is certain about the policy of The Tribune, it commands those men who fearlessly stand for the abolition of state socialism. The Tribune took this attitude during the recent session of the legislature and will consistently stand by it until the hypocrisy of the present situation has vanished.
Threats of what the I. V. A. machine or the Nestos administration will do to McCumber will have no avail. They are lukewarm on McCumber anyway.
Mr. Trubshaw says also in his editorial:
"The action of the Bismarck paper, which is supposed to be the organ of Senator McCumber, does not show that they are keeping faith with the convention."
The Tribune never accepted the dictum of the Jamestown convention. Its editorial policies are not formulated in political conventions. That may be the case with the Times-Record, which if true is regrettable for when a newspaper allows a group of politicians to dominate its policies, it has ceased to be a newspaper.
It would be refreshing in this state if the voters could mop up on all the gangs, bosses and machines and give North Dakota a new deal. There is certainly a crying need for a housecleaning.
Ending the compromise on state socialism would be a good start.
But as The Tribune has said before, the voters can decide for themselves June 28 whether they want to put in more money on state owned industries or stop the orgy now. The voters pay the money, let them take their choice.

STARTING THE FIGHT
Flourishing diplomas, the annual crop of school graduates plunges out into the world. The rest of us—sophisticated and more or less disillusioned—josh them a lot, much as seasoned veterans josh the new troops marching up for their baptism of fire.
The diploma army comes in the nature of a yearly wave of re-enforcements. With all our joshing of the "commencement orator" who thinks he has the world in the hollow of his palm, we realize that the newcomers are badly needed. They bring into the general world a wonderful stimulant—pep, enthusiasm, ambitions, determination and, most valuable of all, youth.
We wish the youngsters a safe and speedy voyage to success.
In charting their course, these horse-sense rules will help.
FIRST: Follow the line of work you like best, regardless of obstacles or the objections from others. Rising to success when one's heart is not in his work is like trying to swim with a ball and chain.
SECOND: Remember that an individual, like an army, can lose many battles and still win the war. Do not let temporary setbacks discourage you. They are sent, in the wise scheme of things, to develop your potential powers, to bring out the best that is in you. Babe Ruth fanned the air thousands of times before he "got the hang of it."
THIRD: Plan far ahead. Youth can take chances. Starting "for next to nothing" where the future looks good is far better than a beginner's job that pays three times as much but has an uncertain future.
FOURTH: There is no short-calls to success. As with our ancestors, success in most cases is the fruit of hard work, patience, everlasting keeping at it, and recognition that he prospers best who serves others most.
Platitudes? Yes—but, truth eternal!

ASKS NO SYMPATHY
Walter Taylor of the La Moure Chronicle laments because Siver Serumgard of Devils Lake, candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor is blind. There have been many men of genius in the same condition. Senator Gore served his state ably in the senate. Great writers have been blind and those who know Mr. Serumgard realize that he has never asked special consideration because of his blindness. He has fought to the top of his profession as a lawyer. The career of the late Mr. Dowling of Minnesota who suffered a greater handicap than Mr. Serumgard is analogous. Dowling became speaker of the Minnesota house of representatives, head of the state bankers' association and much talked of for governor before he died. Minnesota has a blind congressman who has made his personality felt at Washington.
Mr. Taylor will probably learn before the campaign is over that Mr. Serumgard is not so blind that he cannot see through the hypocrisy and the futility of the League and the Jamestown programs of continued state socialism and high taxes.
If elected he will give this state one of the best administrations the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor has ever had. An orator of no mean ability, he is also learned in the law, an accomplishment which is needed since this official serves on more important boards where legal training is necessary than any other state official.
When Siver Serumgard utilizes his powers of oratory in defense of the campaign against the state industrial program regardless of whose auspices it is administered under, the eyes of many will be opened who now are unable to sense the similarity of the League and I. V. A. programs.
The La Moure Chronicle can hardly alienate support from Mr. Serumgard by harping on an infirmity which has been so valiantly and so effectively overcome. Neither can it honestly attack the man who has a record of long service in this state which any man possessed of all his faculties might well be proud of.

THE PRICE OF FUSION
The Independent Review has not made clear what Republican candidates are supposed to let Democrats beat them in November. Let's see: Republican candidates for Auditor, Insurance Commissioner and Railroad Commissioners are supposed to efface themselves next November and let Democrats beat them. Such is the demand of the I. V. A. fusionists.
It is also intimated that the Democrats have insisted on Frazier's nomination and his defeat in the fall by a Democrat, O'Connor and the ascension of Sveinbjorn Johnson to the supreme court. Theodore Nelson has taken on a heavy contract. But in the words of Richelieu: "In the bright lexicon of youth there is no such word as fail."

AUTHORS MIXED
The Fargo correspondent of the Tribune in a special last Saturday made Rex Beach the author of the "Sky Pilot." The error escaped the lynx eyed proof reader of The Tribune. Ralph Connor, the charming Presbyterian clergyman of Winnipeg, whom the writer has had the pleasure of meeting, belongs to a different school than Rex Beach. Connor and Beach get their results by the use of distinctly different literary methods.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts
One little Towlsie, called Wink, boiled a sweet dream in Snoozelum Town on the Moon. First he put in some horse-hairs and a few oat grains, then he put in a shiny buckle and bit of a new strap. These he moistened with water and stirred thoroughly.
Next he wrote an invitation and stirred it in, then he dropped in a bit of candle and a snip of birthday cake.
After a while it boiled so hard that a thick steam arose. This Wink caught in a poppy-leaf bag and tied it up tight.
"Tee, hee, hee!" he giggled, holding it up proudly to his next-door neighbor, called Blink. "Here's a fine dream for Tommy Brown. He's going to dream tonight he's going to get a pony for his birthday."
"I never make dreams that are too disappointing when they wake up," declared Blink. "Tommy will have a bad time when he finds it isn't true."
"Oh, ho, ho, ho!" laughed Wink. "But this is going to come true. Tommy will tell his dream to his daddy and you just see if it doesn't work."
"I'm going to mix up a dream for his daddy, too, and one for the man who sells ponies. The three of them ought to do some good."
Now someone heard every word Wink and Blink said. It was Comet-Legs, the ugly fairy, who was jealous of the Man-in-the-Moon.
"Humph!" he grunted. "Everytime somebody has a nice dream they give the credit to the Man-in-the-Moon and his fairies. I'll have to see about his dream for Tom Jones."
So he ran to the edge of the moon and straddled the shooting-star he used for a horse and scooted off to Eena Meena, the Magician, who cooked up bad dreams.
"See here!" he called. "I've a job for you! Cook me up a dream about a growly bear at once."

CAPITOL.
Rich in the atmosphere of the theater, revealing glimpses of life back of the footlights and in the wings where romance abounds, "At the Stage Door" is William Christy Cabanne's latest production for release by R-C Pictures. It is the attraction at the Capitol theater tonight.
As the title indicates, "At the Stage Door" deals with life in the theater and among those who dwell in the world of make-believe. Not only was it produced under the personal direction of Mr. Cabanne, but it also was written by him and, without exaggeration, may be ranked as one of the most engrossing products of his facile pen. The day Mrs. Maude A. Donohue's husband enlisted she went to work on the editorial staff of the San Francisco Examiner. She is now editor and publisher of a progressive little weekly paper at Cokato, Minn., trying, by keeping herself always occupied, to forget the day when she received the news that her husband had been killed in action in France.
Mrs. Donohue intends this year to erect a new newspaper building in Cokato as a memorial to "My Bill," and then she intends as a "distant dream" to write a book of his life. Last year she visited her husband's grave at Romagne, where 22,000 were buried in the heart of the Argonne wood.
Probably no paper in the country gives more sympathetic treatment to the problem of the returned soldier than does the weekly at Cokato. "The tragedy of war has broadened my viewpoint," says Mrs. Donohue. "There is much to be done, and I'm frank to say that I expect great things of the American Legion as an organization representing men who know what the word 'service' means."

FRENCH AWARD IS DECLINED
Legion's National Commander Accepts Honor Only in Name of Those Who Served.
Hanford MacNider is one of the negligible number of persons who declined the award of "commander of the Legion of Honor," proffered by the French government. Mr. MacNider, as national commander of the American Legion, adroitly shifted the honor to the heads of a million soldiers. He said that he could receive the decoration only as a tribute to all Legionnaires—and when the medal arrives it will be deposited in the archives of the Legion.
When he received the notification of the award, he cabled Marshal Foch: "In the name of 5,000,000 service men and women represented by the American Legion, we extend through you to the President of the French republic our gratitude over the tribute proffered. Realizing that this is not awarded to me personally we accept it for every man and woman of our organization and in extending our deep thanks pledge to France our continued love and devotion."
Mr. MacNider was made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor on the battlefield in 1918.

AERIAL POLO IS NEW SPORT
Aerial polo is the latest sport. One of the chief features of an entertainment given by the American Legion at Miami, Fla., was a game of polo staged high in the air, sans mallets, sans ponies, sans ball, sans everything except a dozen nimble aviators and several dozen toy balloons.
Every sort of twist from the Immelman turn to the maple-leaf drop is called into play during the contest. Here is what happens: A motorboat loaded with the many-colored balloons of the proverbial country fair plows out into the harbor and drops anchor. From nearby hangars come galloping a dozen Pegasuses. They take the air, and when they are equidistant from the launch, at a safe altitude, the little balloons are released and go soaring upward in great confusion on the wind.
The air rider who captures the greatest number is declared the winner. The Legion pilots who tried it said that it used to be easier catching Taubes.
Would Postpone This Expense.
The dome of the proposed Victory Memorial building in Washington would be virtually a huge service flag. It would be studded with five million stars—gold for those who died, blue for those who served. The plan is to have each star engraved with the initials of the soldier it stands for, so that future visitors will be able to distinguish them, with the aid of a telescope, from the floor below. The American Legion has taken the stand that the erection of the expensive memorial should be withheld until there are fewer suffering veterans on the streets.
The ancient prejudice against women students in the universities of Japan has been broken down to a great extent, and many of the colleges and universities are now open to women.

According to one expert in physical culture, a nation whose men excel in women in beauty is faced with disaster.

A CRITICAL MOMENT.
Mrs. John—Oulja, if I should die would John marry again?
John (in a very low whisper)—For goodness sake, Oulja, have a heart.

One day last November in London 340,000 pieces of soot were found in each cubic foot of air and the diameter of each piece was one-twenty-five thousandths of an inch.

When a woman of the Wakamba tribe in Central Africa throws a lump of earth at her husband the act is taken to mean that she despises him and he invariably is granted a divorce.

Blind beggars sometimes have good eyesight, the American Legion has found. One "ex-soldier" with medals bought from a hawk shop was caught taking $80 an hour from New York's theater crowds.

Varying conditions existing in the different parts of the country will largely determine what proportion of service men will desire cash payment, the Legion has learned from its referendum votes.

With mingled feelings, Legion men read that the old yellow, groaning Paris taxi-cabs—the vehicles that took Gallien's army off to fight on the Marne, are to be replaced.

A United States marine sold the United States superdreadnaught New Mexico to a retired farmer at Long Beach, Cal., for $900 cash. Navy officials, however, refused to deliver the ship.

An Oklahoma sheriff allowed three "killings" to take place without much opposition. Ewing C. London, commander of the Ardmore post of the American Legion, was appointed his successor.

RUTH'S RIVALS GOING STRONG

New York, May 29.—While "Babe" Ruth is going hitless as well as home-runless his rivals are pounding out a fast increasing margin for him to shoot at until he regains his slugging stride. Roger Hornsby, second baseman for the St. Louis Nationals, slammed out a brace of homers yesterday increasing his total to 13 and took the lead from his fellow American league townsmen, Ken Williams, who has 12 and Bing Miller of the Athletics close behind with 11. Incidentally Hornsby reached a level with Ruth's 1921 record pace although the latter made it 14 just a year ago this afternoon.

KILLDEER HIGH IS VICTORIOUS

Killdeer, N. D., May 29.—At the Dunn County Athletic Track Meet held at Werner Saturday Killdeer high school won the silver loving cup again by capturing 83 points, Werner being next with 30 points and Dunn Center 17. Juanita Dennison, of Killdeer won the gold medal for best individual record and Frank Lewis and Chas. Christerson of Killdeer tied for the bronze medal. Werner won the prize for best school exhibit.

THIRD BASEMAN BRINGS $125,000

San Francisco, Cal., May 29.—Willie Kamm, third baseman of the San Francisco club in the Pacific coast baseball league, has been sold to the Chicago club in the American League for $100,000, and two players valued at $25,000. It was announced today by George Putnam, secretary of the local club.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP Here Your Decision

If a fielder touches a base runner, while the runner is between bases, and the fielder then juggles the ball as a result of the touch, the runner is not out if he is able to regain the base before again being touched with the ball. The juggling of the ball after the fielder has touched the runner, even though the fielder retains possession of the ball, renders void the touch. It becomes necessary to again touch the runner. For instance, a runner on first starts to steal second. The catcher's throw beats him six feet. The fielder handling the ball touches him that distance in front of second as he slides in. The force of the touch causes the ball to bound into the air. The fielder making the touch recovers the ball before it touches the ground. In the meantime the runner has reached second. The runner is safe. The juggling of the ball had rendered void the touch.

FREE BLIZZARD OF TREASON IN MINERS' FIGHT

Boyish Leader of Miners Is Given Freedom in West Virginia Court

Charles town, W. Va., May 29.—"Bill" Blizzard, boyish mine union official, was freed of the charge of treason by a jury in the circuit court of Jefferson county Saturday night and from the moment court adjourned, was the center of a cheering crowd that choked its rejoicing and congratulations in the court room and on the streets. The jury had been out for six hours and 10 minutes when it returned the verdict just as arrangements were being made to adjourn until Monday. Blizzard and his wife were complaining of sore hands, long before the throngs of friends and strangers had finished their congratulations. "It's a year since I have felt so happy," was Mrs. Blizzard's comment, and her husband in the center of another handshaking throng cried out: "Good old Jefferson county!" Other groups gathered about Blizzard's mother, who accepted their congratulations with a beaming smile that

ORGANIZED BASE BALL WINS OUT IN HIGH COURT

Is Not Interstate Commerce, Says Supreme Court in Decision on Subject

OTHER DECISIONS GIVEN

Washington, May 29.—Organized baseball as conducted by professional clubs under the national agreement, the supreme court held today, is not interstate commerce and the clubs are not liable under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Justice Holmes in rendering the opinion of the court declared that personal efforts not related to production are not interstate commerce. A lawyer sent to another case is not engaged in interstate commerce nor is a Chautauqua lecturer, he added.

The decision was a victory for organized baseball as against the claims of the Baltimore club of the defunct Federal league.

RULE ON STOCK PROVISIONS.

Washington, May 29.—Preferred stockholders of the Reading company will participate with the common stockholders in the distribution of certain assets of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company under a decision by the supreme court today.

The chief justice, acting for the court, accordingly entered an order today modifying the plan of dissolution by a departure from the contract provisions of the general mortgage and in other particulars.

GOVERNMENT NOT LIABLE.

Washington, May 29.—The federal government is not liable for losses which coal companies allege they suffered during the war when compelled to sell coal at prices fixed by the government, the supreme court today held in a case brought by the Pine Hill Coal company.

CHIPPEWAS IN APPEAL FOR AID

Indians in Northern Minnesota Say They Are in Distress

Bea, Minn., May 29.—Chippewa Indians of the northern Minnesota reservation are in poignant distress and need immediate relief as well as provisions for their future livelihood, according to a memorial to congress issued by the grand council of the Chippewa tribes and made public here today.

"As a tribe," says the memorial, "we have been dispossessed of our homes, our liberty, our lands, our wild rice beds, our wild cherry fields, our timber our sugar bushes, our hunting and trapping grounds and privileges.

Several Hundred Indicted. This indictment was one of 16 including charges of murder, insurance and conspiracy and involving several hundred men, 120 of whom obtained a change of venue from Logan county where the indictments were brought, to Jefferson county, for trial.

When hearing of these cases began nearly five weeks ago, the treason charge was picked as the first for trial and Blizzard as the first defendant. Evidence in his case was begun just a month ago.

WILL START TRIAL

Charleston, W. Va., May 29.—The prosecution today upset a tentative agreement to postpone the Logan county armed marchers cases until late in the summer and Rev. E. J. Wilburn, charged with murder, is to be placed on trial June 12.

A Tribute to the Grand Army of the Republic

Time adds new luster to the glory of the Grand Army of the Republic—to those men who fought, bled, and died that the honor and integrity of the nation might be preserved.

Year by year this valiant army dwindles and Memorial Day takes on an added solemnity. Let us make Decoration Day, May 30th, a day of national reconstruction to the principles for which that great army fought!

In respect to the day, this bank will not be open on Tuesday, May 30th.

TRIBUNE WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Keep It Before You

WHEN Isaac Newton, the great mathematician and philosopher, was asked how he worked out a complicated problem, he replied:

"I keep it before me."

Glance through the advertising columns of this paper and in a few minutes you have before you numerous things you want to buy now or at some future date.

Advertising has stabilized prices. The advertiser names his price — one for all. You can know that in paying it you are getting the same deal as the next one.

Keep it before you. You owe it to your pocketbook.

Advertising has helped stabilize quality. Only the best wares are spread before you on these printed pages. The men who advertise here are making public certain claims, on the fulfillment of which depends their commercial success.

Keep it before you.

Advertising gives you news of the latest and best things made with word as to what they cost and what they will do. It puts before your eyes the pick of the country's market and the selection of the particular kind, shape, size and color that best suits your taste and fits your pocketbook.

KEEP IT BEFORE YOU.
